

South Africa Tips

1. there is no wifi in manguzi; although there is an internet cafe, it's so much nicer to have internet on your phone/available at home -- getting international data activated on your phone is a huge plus
2. Trying to figure out cell phone stuff - data, coverage, wifi, etc - prior to travel is essential. They don't emphasize that much, but it's definitely something to really have a good idea of before you go.
