The Advancement Board

The Advancement Board is an advisory group of more than 90 appointed members that represents the objectives of the University of Kansas Medical Center and The University of Kansas Health System, collectively known as the academic medical center. The Advancement Board helps improve medical research and healthcare for the Kansas City area, the state of Kansas and the region.

The Board works to develop community and public support for the academic medical center and to bolster philanthropic efforts for education, research and patient care. The full board meets twice each year, with committee meetings and community affairs events held throughout the year. Under the direction and guidance of the Executive and Oversight Committees, standing committees work to accomplish strategic priorities.

The Board Development Committee identifies community leadership in targeted sectors that support a robust advocacy contingency.

The Government Affairs Committee works to empower board members to understand and respond to federal and state fiscal policy that impacts the academic medical center.

The Community Affairs Committee creates public awareness to engage and educate community leaders and advocates regarding the role of the academic medical center by sponsoring community outreach events.

The Marketing Committee works in partnership with professional staff to develop enhanced marketing strategies that support the priorities of the academic medical center and expand branding of the Advancement Board.

ADVANCEMENT BOARD HISTORY

The Advancement Board was conceived in 2004 under the recommendation of Forrest Hoglund, KU Alumnus and member of the KU Endowment Board of Trustees. Hoglund, as chair of the Board of Visitors at MD Anderson Cancer Center, was instrumental in helping develop and adapt the duties and responsibilities of the Advancement Board, modeling from the advisory board at MD Anderson. Business and civic leaders from the Kansas City metropolitan area and throughout the state of Kansas formed the new organization to support The University of Kansas Health System and the University of Kansas Medical Center. The first Advancement Board meeting was held in June of 2005.
