Susan Carlson
Susan Carlson’s group reported results of two clinical trials in separate issues of the American Journal of Clinical Nutrition last year. Children in the DIAMOND trial who were supplemented with DHA and ARA during infancy had higher full scale and verbal IQ at 6 years of age compared to the control group. Women supplemented with DHA during pregnancy (KUDOS) had a highly significant reduction in the occurrence of early preterm birth. The interest in these results led to a number of media reports including one in the New York Times and invited lectures in Asia, Europe, South America and Canada.

Hearing and Speech

Our graduate programs in Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology continue to be ranked among the top 10 in the country by U.S. News & World Report (5,7, respectively among public institutions and 7, 10 among all institutions). There are nearly 300 graduate programs in SLP and Audiology in the US.

Dr. Jeff Searl received one of the highest scores in the recent Frontier’s grant competition for his project: Articulatory Contact Pressure during Speech by Individuals with Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis.” He was also a co-author of two award winning posters presented at the annual meeting of the International Association of Orofacial Myology.

Drs. Mark Chertoff, Tiffany Johnson and Marc Fey continue to conduct research funded by grants from the National Institutes of Health. These funds also help to support several of our students, who serve as graduate research assistants on these grants.

Dr. Sandy Keener recently received a “Commitment to Excellence” award from the Down Syndrome Guild of Greater Kansas City. She was nominated for this award by a parent of one of her patients.

The Hartley Family Center continued to be supported by an annual gift of $75,000 from the Hartley Family. The HFC also received $6000 from the proceeds of the “We Can You Hear You Now” run/walk event sponsored by the Kansas City Sertoma Club.

Several of our faculty have been appointed to state and/or national committees/advisory boards and task forces (Ferraro, Jackson, Waggoner, Daniels, Schroder).

Dr. Deborah Daniels is completing her term as the President of the Olathe, KS, School Board.

Dr. Lauren Baranowski joined our faculty to serve as our primary audiologist for adults who receive audiology services at the Department’s Hartley Clinic located on the Edwards campus.
Nurse Anesthesia

Paul Hertel: President of Kansas Association of Nurse Anesthetists (KANA)
