

Anesthesiologist

Obstetric, cardiothoracic or neurosurgery anesthesia

About the position

The University of Kansas School of Medicine is actively recruiting anesthesiologists with fellowship training in the areas of obstetric, cardiothoracic and neurosurgical anesthesia to become part of the Anesthesiology and Pain Medicine's dynamic, rapidly growing team. You will be joining a collaborative group of anesthesiologists who work to support the departmental mission to deliver the highest quality of care as well as satisfying teaching and academic responsibilities in a fast-paced and diverse clinical practice. The ideal candidate will be ABA-certified or equivalent and have completed fellowship training in one of the following areas: obstetrics, cardiothoracic or neurosurgery. The University of Kansas' Department of Anesthesiology and Pain Medicine offers competitive compensation, excellent benefits and a generous retirement plan.

About The University of Kansas Hospital

The University of Kansas Hospital is a 750-bed academic medical center with a Center for Advanced Heart Care, Level 1 Trauma Center, Center for Transplantation, NCI-designated cancer center and Advanced Comprehensive Stroke Center. The University of Kansas Hospital ranked nationally in six medical and surgical specialties by U.S. News & World Report, 2020-21. In addition, The University of Kansas Hospital is ranked the No. 1 hospital in Kansas City and is named the Best Hospital in Kansas.

About Kansas City

A metropolitan area of 2.3 million people, Kansas City offers the diversity and excitement of a large city with the charm and convenience of Midwest living. Walkable, tree-lined neighborhoods surround the University of Kansas Medical Center campus, which is within easy reach of the city's top destinations, including the Nelson-Atkins Museum of Art and the Country Club Plaza, a shopping district celebrated for its architecture and pedestrian-oriented design. The campus is less than five miles from downtown Kansas City, Missouri, which has been enhanced in recent years by the additions of an 18,000-seat arena, an entertainment district and a $326 million performing arts center. For more about Kansas City visit our website at: kumc.edu/school-of-medicine/anesthesiology/about-us/about-kansas-city.html.

For more information

To apply please visit our website at kumc.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/kumc-jobs/job/Kansas-City-Metro-Area/Assistant-Professor_JR001073.

Interested applicants may send their C.V. to Talal Khan, MD, MBA, Chairman, University of Kansas Medical Center, Anesthesiology, c/o Courtney Barbeau (cbarbeau@kumc.edu), 3901 Rainbow Blvd., Mailstop 1034, Kansas City, KS 66160.

