

Diversability Series

KICKOFF & FOUR-PART SERIES

Participants will understand the ways in which disability and race intersect and impact individuals and communities. Examine personal biases and attitudes towards disability. Gain an understanding of the history of disability rights.

Kickoff - Hidden in Plain Sight: Disability and Disparity in the US Healthcare System

Reyma McCoy Hyten

Noon Thursday, April 20

Zoom

Join us for the opportunity to discuss how access to adequate healthcare is impacted by the degree of underrepresentation of individual experiences and explore systems-based solutions that can create a more inclusive healthcare system and, ultimately, society. Read More >>

Part I Deaf and Hard of Hearing Accessibility

Noon
Wed., Apr. 26
Hybrid

Join Dr. Petra, Stacey Storme, and Robert Cooper at the keynote address for the Office for Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (DEI) Awards. Learn about intersectionality, ableism, and lived experiences of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing Communities. Read More >>

Part II Disability: Physician Bias and Accessible Healthcare

11 a.m.
Fri., Apr. 28
Zoom

Doctor Sarah Eickmeyer will define disability and identify different types of disability. Learn about access requirements of the ADA and Rehabilitation Act that apply to the provision of equitable health care for all. Read More >>

Part III Disability Inclusion in Medical Education

Noon
Mon., May 15
Zoom

Dr. Lisa Meeks will discuss the landscape of disability in the context of medical education and offer suggestions for disrupting disability bias and more. Read More >>

Part IV Panel

Noon
Tue., May 30
Zoom

This panel offers to share lived experiences including joys and opportunities to close gaps as employees, students, and healthcare patients. Read More >>